

OVERHEARD AROUND NEW HAZELTON

The new bridge over the Kispiox river at Kispiox is about finished and will probably be opened for traffic next week.

Hugh and Edgar Harris left on Wednesday morning for Terrace, to look that country over with a view to prospecting there next summer.

Only two boats between Prince Rupert and Vancouver are now run by the C.N.R. They arrive Wednesdays and Saturdays and leave Rupert Thursdays and Sundays.

Gus. Martenson returned on Monday morning after an absence of four years, during which time he has travelled over a good portion of the American continent.

Miss Spooner, of Smithers, visited her home here a couple of days last week. She was accompanied back to Smithers by her sister, Miss Hilda, who spent the night there.

It will be learned with general regret throughout the interior that Jack Mitchell, with Stewart & Mobley, passed away on Sunday last in Prince Rupert after a long illness. He was well known in the north.

The New Hazelton Ladies' Aid Society have decided to hold their Annual Sale of Work and Social in the Church at New Hazelton on Nov. 23 (Friday). They will have a full line of men's socks, mitts and other useful things for ladies and children. Keep the gate open. 11tf

Capt. Turner, manager of J. F. Guthrie's interests on Driftwood Creek, returned Saturday night from a trip out the Babine trail. On Sunday and Monday he and Duke Harris made a trip to the American Boy and over Nine-mile Mountain. The Captain had been planning to make this trip for some time. He returned to Smithers on Tuesday morning.

Found Much Arsenic

Dr. Hanson, of the geological survey, told the Herald this week that since he started to look for arsenical ore in this interior country he has located what he would estimate as 50,000 tons. This is on Nine-mile and Rocher Boule mountains, and on the Guthrie property on Hudson Bay Mountain. He also believed that the Dome mountain ore carried considerable arsenic. The mineral sought is carried with other minerals and would be a by-product of those other minerals, but the demand for arsenic is rapidly increasing and the miners will find it profitable to have the arsenic saved. It is used largely in destroying insect life on the farms and in the orchards, and its use is becoming more general each year.

Premier Oliver Answers Opposition Charges

Hon. John Oliver, premier of British Columbia, has been having and is still having the time of his gay young life. He is on a tour of the interior of Northern British Columbia making speeches at every point where he can possibly make connections. He is travelling alone and is the sole speaker at the various meetings so that he is not hampered for time and there is no-one else to take the point off his arrows. He is making the trip for the purpose of answering the various charges made by General McRae, leader of the Progressive party, and Hon. W. J. Bowser, leader of the Conservative party. The premier is in fine fighting fettle and he is presenting the government's side of the political situation in no uncertain terms. At all his meetings he is having good audiences and the people sit for three hours per sitting and drink in the premier's words.

Hon. Mr. Oliver made several stops at coast points en route north and arrived at Rupert last week. He then started east, stopping at Terrace, Smithers, Telkwa, New Hazelton, Hazelton, Burns Lake, Francois Lake and then on east to Prince George and Jasper, and then home via the Canadian National.

Premiers' Terrace Meeting

In the course of his tour through Central B.C., Hon. John Oliver, B. C.'s former premier, visited Terrace on Friday and spent a full period during his stay. He was met at the train by the stalwarts of his party on Thursday night and escorted to the hotel, where he made or renewed many acquaintances. On Friday he visited the site of the new bridge and motored around the valley and the bench and visited Braun's Island and the ferry, making copious inquiries all the while.

He addressed a packed meeting in Progress Hall at night, the chair being occupied by the president of the local Liberal Association.

Mr. Oliver received a warm welcome and speedily settled down to the work of trouncing Hon. W. J. Bowser and his party. He went very minutely into the allegations of Mr. Bowser that the government was a spendthrift administration, and showed graphically that the great bulk of the increase in public expenditure was the direct result of the maladministration of the preceding Conservative government, whom he twitted with having sailed under false colors all the time and plunged the province into a very serious financial mess. Mr. Bowser had not explained how much of the excess was due to the legacies which his government had left nor what was for new services which even Mr.

Bowser would not dare to oppose.

Of the 32 million dollars excess over 30 millions was for these new services and the remainder was for building roads and bridges and some of it was going into the bridge at Terrace.

Referring to the allegations of excessive taxation he said the total taxes collected last year were $6,079,000 towards which the fairest of all taxes, the income tax, contributed $2,910,000. The tax on improved lands—farm lands, cannery sites, sawmill sites and every kind of land except wild land—produced less than one million dollars taxation per year, but the government paid for schools alone $3,432,000 or about 56 per cent of the total taxes over and above what was collected locally. The schools were the biggest burden outside the P.G.E. railway. Were they prepared to cut down education? Any province which could afford to spend eight or nine millions on liquor could afford to spend money on the education of the children. (Cheers)

Then $1,686,000 was spent on hospitals and $3,871,000 was paid to municipalities and spent by them, and this province had more helpful financial legislation than any other province in Canada. The present government gave the ladies the vote and passed the Mothers' Pensions Act and were spending in such like useful new services $4,146,000 more than was spent on such things six years ago by the Conservatives. Who wanted these services stopped? Not even Mr. Bowser asked for that.

Mr. Oliver was very severe in his treatment of the opposition in regard to the P. G. E. Mr. Bowser talked about letting the dead past bury its dead. There was no wonder he wanted his past buried, "and if I had a record like his, I am not sure I wouldn't prefer to be buried myself" added the speaker.

Referring to Mr. Bowser's statement that he was touring the province at his own expense for the purpose of widening his knowledge of the conditions in the province, Mr. Oliver said the legislature had paid Mr. Bowser $12,000 for that very purpose in the last six years, while he (Mr. Oliver) had done the same thing, including several journeys to Ottawa, for six thousand dollars during seven years.

"I don't like tax sales of land, and there wouldn't be any if I could induce the administration to take my point of view", he said, but reminded the opposition that the law was passed when they were in power and no tax sales were then held probably because the only defaulters were the capitalists and land speculators to whom they had sold the best land for an old song. As to the charge of excessive costs of civil service, he said 34.5 per cent of the revenue went to meet the cost of that service during Mr. Bowser's administration, whereas now only 17 per cent is so spent in spite of the fact that the service has had to be very materially increased.

Premier Oliver went at great length—speaking for over two hours—into many other matters of public policy and administration and twitted the opposition leader with the suggestion that he was lowering himself to stoop to associate with the common people. "For myself," he added, "I have always been on the level of the common people and I would rather be a son of the common than a member of the opposition with a university education making a fortune out of the P.G.E. railway."

Before concluding he explained his actions re freight rates and said a leading manufacturer had said that the results so far were worth two million dollars a year to the province. He also rebutted charges made against the government of aiding friends financially, and concluded a vigorous address by thanking his hearers for their patience and by stating that he had no change of policy to announce.

Questions were put by T. Turner and J. Hepburn and answered by the Premier and the meeting terminated with the singing of the national anthem.

Jolly Social Night

One of the jolliest social events of the season in Hazelton was a farewell for Mrs. W. W. Anderson and Miss Wattie and a shower for Miss Goddard, given at the home of Mrs. R. S. Sargent on Tuesday evening. About forty ladies from Hazelton and New Hazelton were present. On behalf of the Ladies' Hospital Auxiliary Mrs. Sargent read an address to Mrs. Anderson, the first president, and little Margaret Sargent presented her with a bouquet of pinks. Mrs. Anderson made a very neat reply and expressed regret that she was leaving that particular work. Mrs. Walton Sharpe and Miss Hogan then wheeled in a barrow loaded with useful and pretty things which they parked in front of Miss Goddard. The girls had great fun for the next hour or so (looking forward and looking backward). Miss Cox, on behalf of the ladies of Hazelton, presented Miss Wattie with a handsome travelling bag. The rest of the evening was spent in song and dance until midnight, when the hostess served dainty refreshments. A feature of the musical program was the Hospital jazz band. This was the second semi-public appearance of the band and it made a hit.

WEDDING BELLS

Henderson-Chadborn

On Wednesday afternoon at 3.30 in the Methodist Church, Hazelton, Miss Evelyn May Chadborn, of New Westminster became the bride of Robert Alexander Henderson, also of New Westminster. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Victor Sansum and the witnesses were Robert Tomlinson, of Kispiox, and Mrs. Sansum, sister of the bride. Following the ceremony a wedding supper was served at the parsonage and the happy couple left on the night train for Victoria, going via Jasper, where they will spend a short honeymoon before taking up their home in New Westminster. The bride had spent a few days visiting her sister in Hazelton before the wedding and during that time made many friends in this neighborhood.

Burke-Bright

A wedding of local interest in Hazelton and along the Skeena was celebrated in Meanskinisht on October 1, at 3.30 in the afternoon, when Rev. J. H. Young officiated in making M. F. Burke, of Hazelton, and Matilda Bright, of Meanskinisht, man and wife. The ceremony was performed in the church and was witnessed by a large number of friends of the bride. The groom was supported by Fred Roth, while Julia Clifford was bridesmaid. Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the home of Ben Bright and the evening was very enjoyably spent in various forms of entertainment. The newly married couple will make their home in Hazelton, to which place they take with them the best wishes of a large circle of friends.

To Plant Hundreds of Trees

The Herald is indebted to A. S. Gray, of Cedarvale, for another box of his very excellent apples. They were the same kind as sent to the Smithers Fair, where they captured first prize, only a little better if anything. Mr. Gray says he has found no trouble in disposing of any of his fruit, and he only wishes he had several times as much to sell. He finds the market will consume hundreds of boxes of apples more than are grown and he proposes to increase his orchard next spring from 300 trees to 1000 trees. He knows now the best varieties to grow and just what the market wants.

Special Harvest Thanksgiving services will be held in St. Peter's Church, Hazelton, next Sunday, Oct. 7, at 11 a.m., 3 p.m. and 7.30 p.m. There will be special music at all services, including several special soloists. Gifts of grain, fruit, flowers and vegetables or canned goods will be received on Saturday afternoon and evening, helpers to decorate will be welcomed either in the afternoon or evening. All gifts received will be given to the Hazelton Hospital on Monday. All are invited to attend.

Heard Them All

The people of Northern and Central British Columbia have now heard the leaders of all three parties and some of the leading men in those parties, and the people should know what those leaders think of each other. As for the situation of political affairs in the province there may be some doubt. Two of the aspiring parties claim they could do much better, but the governing party is most emphatic in denying those claims—and there you are.

There is no election in sight and therefore it was not deemed necessary by any of the leaders to outline anything definite in the way of policy. A general promise of making lighter the taxpayer's burden was made by the two opposition leaders. Premier Oliver made no such promise. He frankly admitted that he did not see where there was a chance to make good such a promise, and he would not thus mislead the public.

Thus the voters have three choices: To continue with the present government; to accept the statements of unnecessary and extravagant expenditures by the Oliver government made by Hon. W. J. Bowser; or try out the farmer-independent-provincial-progressive party as Ontario, Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan did.

Hon. W. J. Bowser explained the extravagance of the government by the lack of Scotchmen in the Oliver cabinet, but surely no Scot could more meticulously look after the bawbees than did Hon. John when he dropped those two dimes on the hall floor at Hazelton. But, then, again, what son of Auld Scotia could ever be accused of having a hole in his money pocket?

Opposition stalwarts accuse the government of extravagance in the building of the Prince Rupert courthouse, which they allege to have magnificent Ionic columns. The Premier offered five dollars to charity if anyone in his Hazelton audience could tell him what an Ionic column was. There were no takers.

Quick and Deep Creek

We expect it is poor policy to say anything about the country, but there are some places east of Terrace as well as west that were not frozen out. In fact, all grain was cut before frost, and that never happens on the prairies.

If they want seed potatoes down south we are willing to part with a few here. Now if everyone only planted the same variety how easy it would be to fill several carloads.

We understand that John Pearson and J. H. Beattie have joined the Millionaires' Club since haying. All you need to do is to start out for a little walk and pick up most any kind of claim you prefer, gold, silver, copper or coal.

It is beginning to dawn upon us that there is something wrong with a man's head who will try to get rich on farming, let alone make a decent living.

Greene says that he has a ton of turnips to give to the first one who will come for them at once, but don't ask him to pull them and put them in the wagon. The turnips are good cow feed and will run up to 16 lbs. each—occasionally; some are smaller, but think of the mice and don't be fussy.

We found a man plowing among the stumps. He had one eye closed, owing to having some fresh lime in it. He had two legs bedevilled with rheumatism, but all he had to grouch about was how much worse off he would be if he had to ride over that old east trail to Quick without a spring seat.

There should be a lot of sweet dispositions in Smithers now that Mr. Mortimer has been up with his season's honey crop.

Victory hullless oats seem to be a success. They yield fairly well, stand up O.K., and are early ripening. They can be cracked or fed whole for chicks, hogs or humans. In fact, here's a chance to beat the government on freight charges—make your own porridge.

When we came to Bulkley Valley a few years ago we were told that one could grow potatoes only in a few places or up on the hills. We were told that B.V. spuds were no good anyhow, that the only spuds fit to eat came from Ashcroft. Now we find Ashcroft looking to B.V. for some good seed spuds. We were told that it was impossible to make good butter here. In fact, even now some people know no better than to buy imported creamery butter, while there is at least some of the B.V. dairy butter.

A Problem: A laboring man gets $4 a day, cash money. A farmer, when spuds are scarce, gets $3 a sack. when they are a good crop he gets $1.50. If the laborer works two days he gets $8. If the spud raiser handles one sack he gets $3; two sacks, $3. Twice as much work; two sacks to buy and the howling and loss of soil fertility more than doubles the loss. Still farmers are such growlers. Isn't it strange? And the laborer gets two sacks at price of one, and never a grouch.

Acreage blocks of the finest fruit and garden land in the north can be had. Prices from $28 to $40 an acre with long term payments. See adv. on another page.

Wrote a Prize Forestry Essay

Luella Clarke, of Intermediate Grade,
Danskin School, Francois Lake, Carried Off One of Thirds

In tidying our houses each day, we sweep up all the dust and rubbish and destroy it for the reason that it is useless. If, however, we discover a thimble, which is of very small value, among this rubbish we pick it up and put it away. Should we find among the sweepings an article of greater value than the thimble—let us say a diamond ring—would we not be more careful in putting it away and looking after it?

We all prize or care for things according to their value or what they are worth to us.

At first sight the value of our forests may not be apparent to us and we may not readily see that each of us has a direct interest in them.

However, to those of us living in the northern part of our Province, whose parents earn their living during the winter months hauling or cutting ties, it is fairly clear.

In a lecture delivered to us in our school by a member of the Forest Branch, we learned something of the value of our timber and the reason why we should take care of it. We were told the amount of money that our government collected in timber dues, etc., and we were shown how we might be benefiting by the expenditure of this money in the erection of better and more numerous schools throughout the province.

Our roads also could be improved by expending part of this revenue on them.

Damage by Fire

According to the Forestry Department ninety per cent of last year's forest fires were caused by carelessness. The money expended in fighting these fires was $500,000. We are also told that $23,000,000 worth of timber was destroyed.

In our houses we have a joint ownership in the home. The cups and saucers, plates, chair, spoons, etc., are used by all of us.

Now let us think of our province as one large house in which we reside as one family.

Let us suppose that the forests and rivers and lakes take the place of the various things in this home. Have we not a common interest in them? Should we not then help to take care of them as we do of the articles in our home?

We would feel very indignant were some one to enter our house and destroy our effects. We certainly would try to stop them from damaging our goods and if we were not able to do so ourselves we would secure help from our neighbors if possible.

Protection Necessary

This is exactly the situation in the case of protection of our forests. Since our fathers and brothers directly or indirectly, earn their living through work in connection with timber or lumbering it rests with us to do all in our power to protect and help others to protect the green belts around us. Our teacher explained to us the uses to which lumber is put. We now thoroughly understand the value of this timber and the effect that its destruction would have to our province and we have agreed in our school to do everything that lies son had left for the Old Country turns out a little premature, as Mark Twain said when he was shown his own obituary notice.

Sunflowers are growing to the height of 11 ft. 9 in. in front of the editor's house, which is almost hidden by them.

Already about forty men are working on the bridge and more rock drillers are wanted. The camp is nearly completed now.
Two motor boats are to be used.

Catholic Church Bazaar. Raffle of the center-piece on the lower floor of the G.W.V.A. Hall Saturday, Oct. 13th, from 2 p. m. to 10.30 p.m. Refreshments served.
Everybody invited. 2t

The members of the G.W.V.A. interested had an interview with Hon. John Oliver with regard to the H. L. Frank case. It is stated that the Premier met them to the extent of promising to carry out their wishes as soon as they have proved their allegations in a competent court.

Mr. and Mrs. Braun requested the Premier to use his influence in favor of the erection of a bridge to Braun's Island. John paid a visit to the place and then told Mr. and Mrs. Braun that he did not favor the erection of a bridge, but that in his opinion a fill would be more satisfactory.

Rev. W. J. Parsons is on his way back to Terrace after six month's leave of absence, which he has spent in the east. He expects to resume his ministerial duties on Sunday. In a note to the editor Mr. Parsons says that Mrs. Parsons has fully recovered her health and Gordon has passed his collegiate exams in Winnipeg with honors. That is pleasing news. Gordon is to remain in the Daniel McIntyre College at Winnipeg for some time yet.

Jack Mellit, of Prince Rupert, was sent up to Terrace by the Labor Bureau in response to a request for a teamster for George Little. Mellit turned up Saturday afternoon and Mr. Little suspected that he was out for free meals over the week-end, as has happened several times.
Mellit slept two nights in the bunkhouse and had meals there and also had a meal at Mrs.
Wilson's, where he said Little's office boy had sent him. He was ordered to pay $6.25 or go to jail for 30 days.

T. H. Walsh, of Dorreen, was in town on Monday.

Many Ways To Do It, But The Best Has Been Proven

"There are many lines of publicity that the country store can use to advantage, but the one he can use to best advantage is his home-town paper. I venture to say that if the money spent each year for fancy calendars and other knick-knack giveaways were invested (I say invested, not spent or donated) in carefully planned newspaper publicity, the actual net returns to the advertiser would be ten times as great, to say nothing of the advantage the small-town paper would derive from the additional and much needed revenue."

—CHARLES E. BLACKWELL at the Unity Day Conference held at Ellensburg, Wash., in August.

[NOTE.—Mr. Blackwell is an Okanogan, Washington, merchant and is said by many to be the most successful country merchant in the state.]

CANADIAN NATIONAL OPENS ONE OF WORLD'S LARGEST RAILWAY YARDS FOR GRAIN

Some idea of the extent of the Neebing Terminal opened at Fort William this fall by the Canadian National Railways is given by the above pictures, showing part of the 43 miles trackage with capacity for 2,000 cars. This new terminal is doing much to minimize the possibility of grain car congestion on Canadian National lines at the head of the lakes; expedite delivery of grain to elevators for shipment down the lakes and also the movement of other "loads" and "empties" both east and west and thus further improve the transportation service provided. Views shown are as follows:

- 1.—Classification yard looking eastward from the "hump."
- 2.—Twenty-four stall round-house with electrically operated turntable in the foreground.
- 3.—View from center of the classification yard, showing car coming from "hump."
- 4.—Eight and one-half million bushel elevator at Port Arthur, owned by Canadian National Railways, the picture showing grain going into elevator from cars at one end and being loaded on boat at the other.
- 5.—The "hump," where the force of gravity is the only power used in placing cars in the classification tracks assigned to them. Two cars have just been released and are shown on their way to classification yard.

The slide at Kwinitza held up Hon. John Oliver's train for over two hours on Friday night when he went eastward.

Mrs. Arnold Creelman was removed to the Hazelton Hospital on Friday night. She was in bad state and Mrs. Bleecker accompanied her.

Much local interest is shown in the Assize Court at Rupert this week, Terrace having the unenviable record of contributing four cases—the McDougalls and the juveniles.

The twenty-ninth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Brooks took place last Thursday and a happy little party was held in honor of the event.

Walter Warner and his wife went up the valley with George Cobb on Saturday. Walter had

Gen. McRae is coming Saturday afternoon to address a party and form a local body. These political leaders are getting as persistent as tourists, but some people say they would prefer the latter.

in our power towards the protection of the forests.

If the Forestry department were to prepare a small booklet for use in our schools showing the value of our timber and the uses to which it is applied and giving an idea of the amount of lumber in trees of certain size, I believe it would help the boys and girls in our schools and eventually help in the protection of our forests for the school children of today will be the grown-ups of tomorrow.

THE MINERAL PROVINCE OF WESTERN CANADA

HAS PRODUCED MINERALS VALUED AS FOLLOWS:—

Placer Gold	$ 76,542,203

Miscellaneous Minerals	1,358,839

Making its mineral production to the end of 1922 show
AN AGGREGATE VALUE OF $769,418,462

The striking progress of the mining industry in this province is strikingly illustrated in the following figures, which show the value of production for successive 5-year periods:

For all years to 1895, inclusive	$ 94,547,241
For five years, 1896-1900	57,607,967
For five years, 1901-1905	96,507,968

For the year 1922	35,158,843

PRODUCTION DURING LAST TEN YEARS, $339,280,940

Lode-mining has only been in progress about 33 years, and not 20 per cent. of the Province has been even prospected; 300,000 square miles of unexplored mineral bearing lands are open for prospecting.

The mining laws of this Province are more liberal and the fees lower than any other province in the Dominion, or any Colony in the British Empire.

Mineral locations are granted to discoverers for nominal fees. Absolute titles are obtained by developing such properties, security of which is guaranteed by crown grants.
